Major Dean of Boston, who was returning on the Mariposa to his home, after a lecturing tour in Auckland and other places, died of paralysis of the heart while that steamer was two days out from that port and was buried at sea. Mrs. James Mulligan, wife of the American Consul at Apia, Samoa, was a through passenger on the Mariposa which touched at this port yesterday. Buses will leave the corner of Beretania and Fort as well as King and Fort at 7:30 o'clock this evening for the accommodation of persons intending to attend the Lei Hima Club dance. Captain Cook, of the Mounted Patrol, was the recipient of a very handsome present bright and early yesterday morning. A neat little bundle, duly sealed and stamped, was handed him through the general delivery window of the post office. Smiling in anticipation of the receipt of some beautiful present, he walked over to the police station to share his joy with his comrades. It is said he left his present on the sidewalk.

Central Union Social.

The social given by the ladies of Central Union Church in the church parlors last night was an exceedingly pleasurable event. The object of coming into close touch, one with the other, church member and stranger, was certainly attained. Over two hundred persons, among whom not a small number consisted of strangers, were present during the evening and shared in the good time. During the early part of the evening a very attractive literary and musical program was rendered. This was made up of an entertaining reading in Scotch dialect by Mrs. W. W. Hall, a piano solo by Miss Carrie Castle, and a baritone solo by Mr. Wichman.

After the rendition of this program, the audience broke up into small parties for the purpose of pleasant converse. Light refreshments were served to further add to the enjoyment of the evening.

To Mesdames Schmidt and Hedemann is due to a great extent the success of the initiatory social of Central Union which, it is hoped, was the forerunner of a series of many such in the future.
